Pennoweth News

Hello and welcome back to another edition of the Pennoweth News.

Once again the week has flown by here with a number of different experiences happening across the school. We have had visitors from the National Maritime Museum and even been finding treasure in and amongst blocks of ice!

In other news, next week we will be hosting our fourth POP event where we will be sharing our Total Communication approach with as many parents as possible. This will be an informal workshop where we invite parents to participate and ask questions around the developments of the school and in particular around 'Total Communication'. This is open for all parents and we look forward to sharing this with you all next week.

Finally, on Thursday, our Years 5 and 6 boys football team held a fixture against Weeth Primary. A side who has been renowned for having a super football team. In what was an edgy encounter, with plenty of action, our Pennoweth team came out on top in what seemed like an easy victory but it was truly hard fought. The boys secured a 4-1 result which was richly deserved. Well done to the team and a huge thank you to Mr Turner for facilitating the event for the children to take part in.

With our overall round up completed, lets have a look at what has been going on from around the school.

Reception

This week in Reception we have been designing our very own dinosaurs on the Interactive Whiteboard. We then wrote about our creations. In Maths we have been finding out about mass using a balancing scale and the capacity of containers using water.

Keystage One

We've had such a busy week in Year 1! Writing postcards in English, understanding and using the number line to 20 in Maths. We've used glockenspiels in Music, exploring samba music and practiced nursery rhymes too. Our highlight this week has been taking part in a Samba Dance workshop - a massive thank you to Miss Haley for running this for us! What was your favourite move in the session?

Year 2 have had an investigatory style week this week, researching blue whales for our information text and how to melt ice to retrieve treasure as part of our 'Love to investigate'. We have completed our maths unit on money and are looking forward to delving into multiplication and division next week.

Keystage Two

This week, Lower Keystage Two have embraced their new art-based project, Blue Abyss! On Wednesday, they had a WOW day where children observed and sketched some sea creatures (with real life samples in the classroom!), adding detail to highlight the external features of the creatures, such as scales and eyes. Pupils also learned about the sculptor, Antony Gormley, who focuses on the human form and has many installations in outside spaces, before having a go at drawing the human figure themselves. Next, children carefully looked at the patterns of different samples of shells before sketching them. After, they learned about artists, such as Georgia O'Keefe, who focus on small parts of an object and draw them on a much larger scale. Children then had a go at this abstract technique in their sketchbooks. Finally, children learned about the five layers of the ocean - can they name them?

The s ___ l i g ___ zone

The tw ___ ght zone

The mid ___ zone

The a ___ y s ___

The tr ___ nch ___

Once they had drawn and labelled a cross-sectional diagram to show the five different layers of the ocean, pupils worked in small groups to make a 3D model to show each ocean layer, its physical features and the living things that inhabit each zone. Can they remember some of the weird and wonderful creatures that live in each layer of the ocean?

We discovered that we have many talented artists in the phase, here are some of their masterpieces...

Friends of Pennoweth

Happy New Year to our amazing community!

We're grateful for all the support for our PTA (Parent Teacher Association) last term, from making-up and purchasing goodies from our stalls, participating in events, and helping out with our fundraising and social events. We raised funds with a successful wreath workshop and other fun activities.

Also, a big thank you to everyone who attended our first online meeting in November and the in-person drop-ins. Your support keeps our group thriving.

Find out how you can help us to continue!

This term we are holding an online drop-in and in person drop-in's where you can find out what we have planned and how you can be involved.

Pop in for a chat and cuppa on Thursday 23rd January 8.50-9.20am & 2.40-3pm members of the PTA will be available

We will be holding another online meeting on Wednesday 29th January at 7.00-7.30pm. Everyone is welcome to attend.

If you cannot attend one of these meetings but would like to find out more, you can email us at pennoweth_pta@yahoo.co.uk or drop one of our members a message.

Being part of Friends of Pennoweth is about getting involved, supporting the school, the children and helping to fundraise. It can take as little time or much time you can spare - even an hour once a year can make a difference.

Important Updates regarding Attendance

There are 175 non-school days in a year and 190 school days each year.

190 school days in each year	7 days absence	183 days in school	10 days absence	180 days in school	19 days absence	28 days absence	47 days absence
	190 days for your child's education				171 days in school and the equivalent of a month not in school that year
100%	96%	95%	90%	85%	75%
Good -Best chance of success -Gets your child off to a flying start -Helps their confidence, social development as well as their academic progress -Over 97% is considered excellent attendance		Some Concern -Harder for your child to make progress -School starts tracking your child's attendance closely, Medical evidence may be required to authorise further absences linked to illness		Worrying -Your child is now classified as a 'persistent absentee' - Education Welfare Officer involvement is likely		Serious Concern -Having a significant impact on your child's education and well-being -Legal Action may be taken

Our DNA

Everything we do in school is shaped by our Pennoweth DNA statements. Each week each phase team identifies one child who has done a fantastic job of demonstrating each strand of the DNA. Well done to all the children below.

We are safe.

We feel loved.

We take responsibility.

We are always learning.

We are ready.

Unauthorised Exceptional Leave of Absence Information

The law requires parents to ensure their children receive an efficient full time education, and every minute of every day is important. Please help them not to miss any of the valuable time.

We hope that when you read the information outlined on our website, you will consider that your child's education is too important to take on holidays during term time.

If an unauthorised leave of absence is taken, this may incur a penalty notice being issued under Section 444A and 444B of the Education Act 1996. This carries a fine of £60 if paid within 21 days or £120 if paid after this but within 28 days. Failure to pay the penalty notice will result in Court action.

Unauthorised Late Information

If your child is arriving late—after the register has closed at 8:50am it will be coded as a U which, is an unauthorised late mark. If your child accrues 20 unauthorised late marks within 100 sessions (10 weeks) you will be committing an offence under the Education Act 1996.

The School may refer the matter to Cornwall Council who may decide to take legal action against you, issuing a penalty notice under section 444A and 444B of the Education Act 1996. This carries a fine of £60 per child, per parent if paid within 21 days or £120 if paid after this but within 28 days. Failure to pay the penalty notice will result in Court action.

Persistent absences/unauthorised lates, not authorised by the school, may result in a prosecution in the Magistrates Court, leading to fines up to £2500 and/or custodial sentences.

Online Safety Update

At The National College, our WakeUpWednesday guides empower and equip parents, carers and educators with the confidence and practical skills to be able to have informed and age-appropriate conversations with children about online safety, mental health and wellbeing, and climate change. Formerly delivered by National Online Safety, these guides now address wider topics and themes. For further guides, hints and tips, please visit nationalcollege.com.

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about JUSTALK KIDS

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

JustTalk Kids is a child's version of the JusTalk app – a highly popular social networking platform – designed for users up to 13 years of age, allowing them to video call, message and participate in group chats. While adults can link their own JusTalk account to their child's and make use of parental controls, it's important to understand the risks associated with the app.

SUBSCRIPTION FOR PREMIUM ACCESS

While JustTalk Kids is free, there's the option to subscribe to a kids' premium account or a premium family account. At a cost, this feature allows children to have access to more fun features such as games they can play with others in a chat, exclusive stickers, a badge denoting them as a premium subscriber, and exclusive ringtones and themes.

RESISTANCE TO CONTROLS

JustTalk Kids endeavours to allow children the sense of having a chat-based app while allowing parents to set controls (within the app or from their own adult JusTalk account). The basis behind this is positive; however, some children are challenging their parents by refusing to use JustTalk Kids, preferring to use the adult version without any restrictions in place.

KNOWING THE PARENT PASSCODE

After downloading JustTalk Kids, parents can set a passcode which users must enter to add contacts. The parental controls help to manage which content can be viewed and who children can add as a contact; this then allows children to chat with friends in a controlled environment. However, prospective contacts don't have to know a specific username. In theory, someone could type in a random name and then add them as a friend.

POTENTIAL DATA LEAKS

JusTalk and JustTalk Kids claim to be secure and encrypted, going so far as to state that even the developers themselves won't access your data. However, a security lapse in 2022 highlighted that messages were not in fact encrypted – leading to concerns around the security of the app and the transparency of the development team.

CYBERBULLYING

Online chats can provide a sense of anonymity, leading some users to post things which they wouldn't normally say in person. Combined with the option of group chats, there's a risk that young people might join in with this kind of behaviour, escalating it further and potentially turning what should be a fun experience into something deeply negative.

TOO MUCH SCREENTIME

A report by the UK Parliament Education Committee highlighted a 52% increase in children's screen time between 2020 and 2022 – as well as finding that 39% of children used their smartphones in a manner consistent with screen addiction. Introducing children to social networking apps when they're too young can lead to bad digital habits and a reliance on technology from an early age.

Advice for Parents & Educators

JUSTIFY THE CONTROLS

If parents allow their child to use JustTalk Kids, they should explain that they're putting parental controls in place to make the app safer. Make sure the child knows not to put their full name on the account and doesn't use a photo of themselves as their profile picture. This type of open discussion will help to ensure that a child is aware of the app's potential risks and knows how to reduce them.

TALK ABOUT ONLINE FRIENDSHIPS

Young children could be excited to use this app. However, highlight that they must do so in a positive, respectful and responsible manner. While it can be easy to get caught up in a group chat, it's important to talk to others politely and call out any unpleasant behaviour. Discuss the importance of limiting their contacts to people they know in real life and use parental controls to enforce this.

DOS AND DON'TS OF SHARING

Some children might not understand the potential dangers of oversharing online. Set clear guidelines around what is and isn't safe to share on the internet, and discuss the concept of a digital footprint. Children need to understand that the things they say and share online can never be completely erased. Even if they delete it themselves, it can be saved and distributed by others.

ENCOURAGE OPEN COMMUNICATION

Apps like JusTalk can sometimes lend themselves to bullying behaviours. Parents should monitor what their child is sending and receiving, check in with them regularly and encourage them to share their feelings (both positive and negative) at home. Remind them that they can block a contact if someone is treating them disrespectfully.

What Parents & Educators Need to Know about SCHOOL AVOIDANCE

Emotionally Based School Avoidance is a term used to refer to reduced attendance or non-attendance at school by a child or young person. It's often rooted in emotional, mental health or wellbeing issues. The rate of children who miss school more than 10% of the time in England has more than doubled since before the pandemic: rising from 10.9% in 2018-19, to 22.3% in 2022-23.

UNDERSTANDING SCHOOL AVOIDANCE

REASONS FOR ABSENCE

School avoidance is sometimes underpinned by several factors rather than one single cause. This could include something going on for the child or young person within the family or at school. A child may have caring responsibilities at home, for instance, or a change in family dynamics; bullying and friendship difficulties at school; pressure to achieve in schoolwork and exams; or moving from primary school to secondary school.

PATTERNS OF ABSENCE

You may notice patterns in regular absences or children regularly expressing that they don't want to attend school (particularly being reluctant to leave home on school days). If a child or young person is neurodiverse, there is some evidence to suggest there are more aspects of school life which can cause distress – such as changes in the environment, changes of routine and sensory stimuli.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT PHYSICAL SYMPTOMS

There may be an increase in a child or young person's complaints about physical symptoms, particularly on school days or the evening before school. These could include complaining of a tummy ache, headache, or saying they feel ill when there doesn't appear to be a medical cause. Always check with the GP first to rule out medical causes or illness.

IMPACT OF SCHOOL AVOIDANCE

LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT

School refusal can negatively impact a young person's learning and development. Attending school on a regular basis not only supports academic attainment but is also important for the development of key life skills and the growth of children and young people as citizens.

LONG-TERM OUTCOMES

The difficulties associated with school non-attendance can be far reaching and may have a negative impact on long-term outcomes. It may, for example, lead to reduced future aspirations, poor emotional regulation, mental health difficulties, limited academic progress and restricted employment opportunities.

CYCLE OF ABSENCE

Consistent absences may contribute to sustained school avoidance over time. Further to this, the longer a pupil is out of education, the more likely it is that there is a rise in their ongoing need to avoid the activity which is making them anxious – increasing their desire to stay at home.

Advice for Parents & Educators

WORK TOGETHER

If there's a concern about a child's absence and emotional wellbeing, it's important that there is clear communication and a consistent approach between the child's parents and the school, so you can take a child-centred approach together towards a plan of support or reintegration. This ensures a consistency of approach from both home and school, creating better outcomes for the child.

MANAGING OVERWHELMING FEELINGS

While there may be times you feel frustrated or angry, try to stay calm; acknowledge the child's worries, listen and discuss a range of coping strategies together to help them face the discomfort and overwhelming feelings. These could include mindfulness, deep breathing or going for a walk and practice the strategies in less overwhelming situations first.

FOLLOW REGULAR ROUTINES

Children can benefit from a regular and consistent routine. This could be a morning routine, from waking up and having breakfast through to getting dressed, packing their bag and leaving the house. A consistent evening routine which is calm and limited time on screens can also give children much needed predictability and familiarity. Schools can help create a timetabled routine for the child's school day, if required.

REDUCE STIMULATING ACTIVITIES AT HOME

If a child is avoiding school, reduce their access to more stimulating activities (such as watching television, playing games and spending time with friends) during school hours, where possible. This reduces the potential for the child having rewarding experiences at home, which could be interpreted as a positive aspect of avoiding school.
